3.35.3 Simultaneously, and without prejudice to the contents of paragraph 3.25, on issuance of Notification of Award to the successful Tenderer, KPLC shall notify each unsuccessful Tenderer.

3.38.4 A notification of the tender outcome does not reduce the validity period for any tender security whether the Tenderer is successful or not, except where such tender security is officially released to the Bank and/or the Tenderer and such Bank discharged of all its obligations by KPLC prior to the expiry of its stated validity period.

"It sort of should go without saying, and it's surprising that it still doesn't go without saying at some companies., if the person who works at your company is 100% proud of the job they're doing, if you give them the tools to do a good job, they're proud of the brand, if they were looked after, if they're treated well, then they're gonna be smiling, they're gonna be happy and therefore the customer will have a nice experience. So, my philosophy has always been, if you can put staff first, your customer second and shareholders third, effectively, in the end, the shareholders do well, the customers do better, and yourself are happy," Richard Branson.

In 2022, the Company will celebrate 100 years of powering Kenya's socio economic growth, making Kenya Power one of the country's pre-eminent corporate organisations. BRIEF ON CRISIS COMMUNICATION STRATEGY DEVELOPMENT (30 points)

The Kenya Power & Lighting Company PLC (the Company) owns and operates most of the electricity transmission and distribution system in the country and sells electricity to over 8 million account holders; both individual and business customers. b) Strategic Crisis Communication Management

“It takes 20 years to build a reputation and five minutes to ruin it. If you think about that, you'll do things differently,” - Warren Buffet, American business magnate and investor.

Few occurrences in the life cycle of a business can have a greater on its reputation and ultimate sustainability than a poorly handled crisis, and therefore the role of corporate communications and the leadership, in ensuring that crises are quickly contained, and dealt with cannot be gainsaid.

Most crises emanate from the operations side of the business; some are unintended/unforeseen, while some are the result of acts of omission or commission. So in addressing crises, it is imperative that potential causes of crises are proactively identified and steps put into place to mitigate, and address. Conversely, in a reactive situation, the root cause should also be established, and addressed during the post implementation review phase to use lessons learnt to forestall a recurrence.

As many leaders know, crises are best managed before they occur; during calm waters by deploying a robust stakeholder engagement strategy to win hearts and minds, or in a manner of speaking, to deposit into the stakeholder goodwill bank so that when the ship sails into choppy waters, the brand will have ambassadors that are ready to defend it.

At the height of a crisis, it is crucial that stakeholders are carefully mapped out, their issues identified and a response plan rolled out. A key stakeholder during crises is media-both legacy and digital; given its ability to amplify or deflate a crisis.

For this second part of the pitch, respondents will demonstrate their ability to creatively, and comprehensively manage a crisis through forward looking ideas, whilst at the same time making reference to past successes as proof of concept.

c) Problem statement

A transformer blows up in an estate in Nairobi, setting fire to several houses, killing an unknown number of children and adults, and destroying property worth millions of shillings. Preliminary investigations indicate that the explosion is as a result of illegal connections conducted by staff members. What is more, the issue had been reported and no action had been taken. The crisis draws the ire of the public, and parliament calls for the resignation of the Company's top officials. At the same time, top government leaders demand quick action from the Company's leadership.

Local media give the story prominence -top story on electronic media and headline story in the newspapers. The story also gets international coverage and is also trending on social media under the hash tag #arrestkplcmurderers.

d) Requirements

Design a comprehensive and creative communications strategy that will address the needs of the various stakeholders involved, and neutralize the negative coverage. In a best case scenario, the strategy should look at ways in which the management of this crisis can be quoted by thought leaders as ‘how to manage a crisis’.

Clearly outline all the stakeholders involved and their various needs; be clear on the actions that will be taken with each of them, and outline the key messages for each group. Have a clear set of objectives and outcomes.

Do include the following:

1. A crisis management plan that will include the process of situation analysis and risk assessment, team formulation and allocation of key responsibilities;
2. A detailed stakeholder engagement plan;
3. A legacy and digital media management plan;
4. An internal engagement plan including messages from various Company leaders addressing the crisis.
5. A message house for identified stakeholders
6. Establishment of protocols and development of resources to be used such as crisis manuals
7. Media kit with sample press statements and speeches from key spoke persons, as well as FAQs.
8. Monitoring and feedback mechanisms and reports

e) Outcomes

1. 60% neutral coverage in legacy media
2. 50% neutral coverage in social media
3. 70% staff engagement
4. 60% corporate reputation index
